ORAHS 2022

48th annual meeting of the euro working group on operational research applied to health services

ORAHS provides a network for researchers involved in the application of systematic and quantitative analysis in support of planning and management in the health services sector. The meeting is open to anyone with a quantitative background and those who have interest in the subject area.

Main theme of the 2022 edition:
organization and reaction of health systems when confronted with emergency situations like the COVID pandemic.

Three streams

- Hospitals and public authorities: how can they react to extreme scenarios, by possibly rearranging their available resources?
- Territorial health systems: how and to what extent can they complement the hospital system to cope with a pandemic?
- Clinical practice: decision support for diagnosis and treatments, when fighting against a new virus for the first time.
